

A black and white photograph of poppies. In the foreground, several poppy flowers are in various stages of bloom and as seed pods. One large flower is in full bloom, showing its delicate, ruffled petals. To its left, another flower is partially open. Below them, several seed pods are visible, some still attached to their stems. The background is a soft, out-of-focus field of many more poppies, creating a sense of depth and a vast field. The lighting is soft, highlighting the textures of the petals and the smooth surfaces of the seed pods.
