

A black and white photograph of a field of poppies. In the foreground, several poppies are in various stages of bloom and seed pod development. One large, fully bloomed flower is the central focus, with its petals showing some darker shading. To its left, another flower is partially visible. Below and around these are several seed pods (capsules) on thin stems. The background is a soft-focus field of many more poppies, creating a sense of depth and a vast field. The lighting is natural, highlighting the textures of the petals and the smooth surfaces of the seed pods.
